Art Unit: 1751

This action is responsive to applicant's amendment filed 01/16/07. Claims 1-5, 7-14, 16-21, 25, 26, 31-35, 37, 39-44, 46-53, 55-60, 65 and 66 pending.

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 01/16/07 has been entered.

The election of species requirement mailed 10/11/05 is maintained. It is noted that applicant has amended claim 1 to remove (elected species) oxides from the claims. Accordingly, non-elected species sulfides have been examined. Claims 7, 8, 16-21, 31-35, 37, 39, 46, 47 and 55-60 remain withdrawn from consideration. An action on the elected species follows.

The prior art rejection over Selvig is withdrawn in view of applicant's amendment and remarks.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1-5, 9-14, 25, 40-44, 48-53, 65 and 66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Schmidt et al (5,910,522).

Art Unit: 1751

Schmidt discloses composite adhesive for optical and opto-electronic applications contains the following: a) transparent polymers and/or polymerizable oligomers and/or monomers suitable for use as adhesive, b) nanoscale inorganic particles, c) optionally, compounds for the surface modification of said inorganic particles, and d) optionally, a crosslinking initiator. The composite adhesive is suitable for connecting individual components of optical or opto-electronic elements and for constructing such elements (Abstract). Suitable transparent polymers include polycarbonates (Col 3, lines 48-49), and Schmidt teaches 1-50 vol% inorganic oxide nanoparticles such as metal sulfides (Col 3, lines 62-64; Col 4, lines 10-15 and lines 36-58). Additionally, the reference teaches IR values of 1.3 to 1.7 (Col 4, line 64). The reference discloses the claimed materials and IR values with sufficient specificity to constitute anticipation. In order to anticipate the claims, the claimed subject matter must be disclosed in the reference with "sufficient specificity to constitute an anticipation under the statute." What constitutes a "sufficient specificity" is fact dependent. If the claims are directed to a narrow range, and the reference teaches a broad range, depending on the other facts of the case, it may be reasonable to conclude that the narrow range is not disclosed with "sufficient specificity" to constitute an anticipation of the claims. See, e.g., Atofina v. Great Lakes Chem. Corp., 441 F.3d 991, 999, 78 USPQ2d 1417, 1423 (Fed. Cir. 2006).

The reference is anticipatory.

In the event that any minor modifications are necessary to meet the claimed limitations, such as selection of a particular carbonate resin or surface-functionalizing agent, such modifications are well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

Claims 1-5, 9-14, 25, 26, 40-44, 48-53, 65 and 66 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(a)/(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over either Kaminsky et al (2004/0233526) or Garito et al (2003/0175004).

As stated in the Rejection mailed 01/26/06, the examiner has determined the instant claims are accorded a priority date of 06/25/03 (the filing date of the instant specification).

Kaminsky discloses an optical element (lenses) comprising a substrate with surface features on a surface thereof having an Ra of from 3 to 200 micrometers containing a dispersion of minute particles having a particle size dimension less than 100 nanometers (Abstract; para 0002, 0011). The reference specifically discloses polycarbonates, and the addition of sulfide nanoparticles (which may have surface functionality) to increase refractive index (para 0042, 0058, 0062 and 0074).

Paragraph 0123 discloses polycarbonate/ZnS composites having RI 1.596, 1.598, 1.611, 1.641, 1.657, and 1.675. The reference specifically or inherently meets each of the claimed limitations.

The reference is anticipatory.

In the event that any minor modifications are necessary to meet the claimed limitations, such as selection of a particular carbonate resin or surface-functionalizing agent, such modifications are well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

Garito discloses composite material that includes a host matrix and a plurality of dispersed nanoparticles within the host matrix. Each of the plurality of nanoparticles may include a halogenated outer coating layer that seals the nanoparticle and prevents agglomeration of the nanoparticles within the host matrix (Abstract; para 0114). The reference specifically discloses polycarbonates, and the addition of sulfide nanoparticles (which may have surface functionality) to increase refractive index (para 0064, 0093, 0138, and 0141). Paragraph 0069 discloses a composite having RI 1.6725. The reference specifically or inherently meets each of the claimed limitations.

The reference is anticipatory.

In the event that any minor modifications are necessary to meet the claimed limitations, such as selection of a particular carbonate resin or surface-functionalizing agent, such modifications are well within the purview of the skilled artisan.

In view of the foregoing, the above claims have failed to patentably distinguish over the applied art.

The remaining references listed on forms 892 and 1449 have been reviewed by the examiner and are considered to be cumulative to or less material than the prior art references relied upon in the rejection above.
